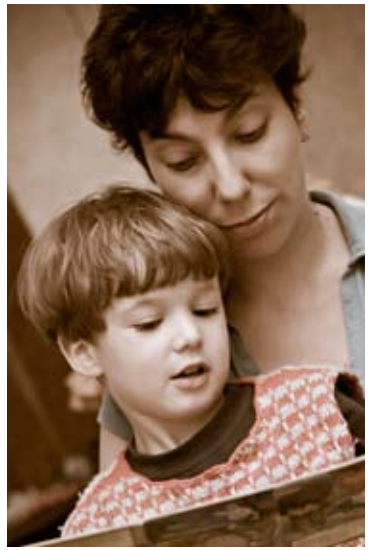
Did you know that parents are the single biggest influence affecting children's learning and attainment at school?



The Innovation Unit is launching an innovative online survey to help schools gain an accurate measurement of levels of parental understanding and confidence in supporting their children.

If you are interested in knowing more about this survey and running it with parents in your school, then get in touch with The Innovation Unit at: parents@innovation-unit.co.uk.

The Innovation Unit works in partnership on our Next Practice Programme:

On System Leadership we are working with the National College for School Leadership (NCSL).

On Resourcing Personalisation we are working with the Specialist Schools and Academies Trust (SSAT).

On Communities for Learning we are working with the Training and Development Agency for Schools (TDA).

The Innovation Unit supports Panwapa – a new website from the Sesame Workshop, the educational body behind Sesame Street. The aim is to foster global citizenship and community activism in young children through new Muppet characters who bring issues to life through interactive, multi-lingual media.
